

Programming for Everybody (Getting started with Python)

By Coursera

13/08/2020 (Took Week 4 “Working some of Exercises” lesson on this course)

The screenshot displays the Coursera interface for the course 'Python for Everybody'. The browser address bar shows the URL: coursera.org/learn/python/lecture/dlq89/worked-exercise-2-3. The user is logged in as Nanditha R Shetty. The left sidebar contains a navigation menu with the following items:

- Lecture materials
- Review: Chapter 2
- Assignment: Chapter 2
- Graded External Tool: Assignment 2.2 (1h)
- Reading: Where is the worked exercise for Assignment 2.2? (10 min)
- Graded External Tool: Assignment 2.3 (1h)
- Video: Worked Exercise: 2.3 (7 min)
- Bonus: Chapter 2

The main content area is titled 'Worked Exercise: 2.3' and features a video player showing a desktop screen. The video content includes:

- A Chrome browser window displaying the 'Python for Everybody' course page.
- The page title 'Python for Everybody' and a welcome message: 'Welcome to my Massive Open Online Course (MOOC) version of Python for Everybody. Now that you have logged in, you have access to course-style features of this web site.'
- Instructions: 'As you go through the Lessons in the course you now will see additional links to the autograders in the class. You can attempt the autograders and get a score.'
- Information about tracking progress: 'You can track your progress through the course using the Assignments tool and when you complete a group of assignments, you can earn a Badge. You can download these badges and host them on your web site or refer the badge URLs on this site.'
- Information about a discussion forum: 'There is an online discussion forum hosted by Disqus.'
- Information about Creative Commons licensed materials: 'If you want to use these Creative Commons Licensed materials in your own classes you can download or link to the artifacts on this site, export the course material as an IMS Common Cartridge, or apply for an IMS Learning Tools Interoperability (LTI) key and secret to launch the autograders from your LMS.'

The video player interface includes controls for 'Save Note', 'Discuss', 'Download', 'Share', and 'P'.